For airline pricing and revenue management teams, ATPCO MarketView is the industry-trusted tool that provides you with the wide-ranging competitive pricing data and market insight in real time to inform winning commercial strategies and pricing decisions.

MarketView offers the flexibility to view data your way, whether you want only the lowest fares in a market or the entire fare range, the total product price or all the individual components, you can access it all quickly in just one search using this easy-to-use tool.
MAKE MARKETVIEW WORK FOR YOU

One-query access to pricing data elements summarized and packaged together into a meaningful product your traveler sees.

Monitor and analyze market conditions of the competitive landscape so you can make well-informed decisions based on a clear understanding of pricing trends and the competitive landscape.

You work hard to determine competitive pricing strategies and keep your policies intact. Audit fares, rules, footnotes, and carrier-imposed fees to ensure all your product components are pricing as intended.

Download a customizable summary view of fares, rules, footnotes, and carrier-imposed fees to support internal analysis needs and to build an internal database of competitive intelligence.
WHY CHOOSE MarketView

- Total Price and all key components in a single display
- Always timely data for informed pricing decisions
- Quick, convenient and affordable access
WHAT OUR USERS ARE SAYING

“The tool is very intuitive to work with; I needed just one learning session to get me going.”

“We always make use of MarketView and the changes are very positive. Apart from YQ/YR information, we are now able to use Market View by Fare to search add-ons in public fares and complete rules information that we could not do before (ie. Day Type)”

“ATPCO’s Total Price provides the insights I need to understand the market, allowing great visibility to total price and its components, so I can analyze and adjust my prices in a particular RBD according to my strategy”

“Having the possibility to download all data we need to excel/access it makes our job easier.”
